

CIA President's Annual Report to the 104th FAI General Conference Dublin (Ireland) October 8-9, 2010

Highlights 2010

1. CIA Annual Meeting

The CIA's 2010 Plenary meeting was held in Lausanne from March 12 to 13, 2010. Delegates from 28 NACs were present or represented. The FAI was represented by the Secretary General Stéphane Desprez and Sports & Development Director Jean-Marc Badan. The meeting successfully dealt with its agenda and among the items discussed the following are noteworthy:

- CIA delegates reported on ballooning activities in their respective countries (statistics are available from the CIA secretary).
- The delegates appointed and approved the FAI International Juries and key officials for the 2010-09-17 sanctioned events.
- The delegates regretted once again that two outstanding issues with FAI Members could not yet be resolved. The UAE and Russian NACs failed to abide by their obligations and were not responsive to the FAI and CIA requests to help settle the outstanding issues. The CIA therefore decided to retain the event deposit of 10.000.- CHF for the 2008 BX Championship in St. Petersburg/Russia, and to continue its efforts to recover the cost for the organisation of the failed 2007 CIA Conference in Abu Dhabi..
- The delegates passed a motion to accept a document presented by the CIA Event Development Service and dealing with a new "Event Performance Bond" structure and a new event "marketing" philosophy based on IPC's experience. The delegates tabled discussion on the proposed performance bonds and sanction fees until the 2011 Plenary Meeting.
- The delegates decided to approve procedures regarding the technical requirements for CIA approved balloon competition loggers and procedures for CIA approved loggers developed by the CIA New Technologies Subcommittee (NTS) and built to their specifications.
- The delegates decided that the CIA Bureau members shall be elected for a one-year term.
- The delegates approved the new CIA Events Calendar, the 2010-2011 budget and the 2009 accounts.
- The delegates decided that the 2011 CIA Plenary Meeting will be held in Tokyo/Japan from March 9-12.
- The delegates re-elected the CIA Bureau for one more one-year term.

7. General considerations

Although Ballooning is, apparently, by far the most sponsor attractive air sport, and ballooning events being generally very well accepted by the public and media, we find it difficult to attract enough organisers to stage and run all of our sporting events on the calendar. More and more organisers prefer to have "non-sanctioned" events, giving them freedom from strict rules and procedures and allowing for more public- and media friendly events. The CIA is making efforts to counter-act this tendency and will adopt in the near future a new bidding and sanctioning process based on the "direct marketing" efforts adopted by the IPC. The CIA is continuing its efforts regarding Safety issues at our events, modernisation of our existing competition formats, communication with the grass roots balloonists, rapid aging of our pilot population and the difficulties to recruit new pilots, and poor representation of female pilots at our competitions. In this respect, we are pleased to announce that in 2010 we staged the first ever highly successful Women Continental Hot Air Balloon Championship and that we will have the Women World Hot Air Balloon Championship in 2011. We are moving along smoothly in developing a simple and effective competition-logger system, ultimately leading to improved and less complex scoring systems at our CAT1 events.

Following a decision of the International Jury at the ballooning event of the WAGs in Turin in 2009, the FAI was faced with an Appeal by the Brazilian NAC. This Appeal, quite legitimately presented but mishandled with total disregard of any due-process by the FAI Appeals Tribunal, ended up with the Court of Arbitration for Sport (CAS) in Lausanne and could happily be settled by a face-saving out-of-court agreement. Although the relevant statutory and Sporting Code regulations seem to be clear and have served the FAI very well in the past, it is now felt that the Appeals procedures should be revised.

The CIA is very much concerned about the FAI EB planned strategy regarding the ASCs financial contribution to the resources needed to run an efficient and modern administration in an International Sports Federation. It is felt that the ASCs, being at the exclusive service of the FAI Members and taking on their delegated responsibilities, should not be used as "easy" money-raising instruments to cover missed or unused opportunities. Competition revenue raised by ASCs should be used exclusively for the direct benefit of those participating in our sports, and not to supplement the budget of the FAI administration. The FAI (not the ASCs) already retains the exclusive media rights to all FAI air sports events and could make these rights their top priority to raise the necessary finances to fund their ambitious administration efforts. Grass roots air sports people in aerostation are not prepared to fund these efforts without seeing direct and noticeable improvements for their activity, and the CIA is afraid that, if implemented, this strategy will be to the detriment of the air sport in general and that many, if not most, participants will turn their back on the FAI and look for other avenues to participate in their preferred air sport. Balloonists sincerely hope that NACs will not be blinded by grand strategic plans and that common sense will prevail when deciding this issue. The CIA is aware of its responsibilities and believes that it has never failed the principles of FAI. Therefore the CIA believes that loosing the NACs' vital support would be understood as a "non-confidence" vote with dire consequences for our sport.

Concluding, I would like to acknowledge the support received from the NACs and the FAI Staff in Lausanne, and to sincerely thank them for their efforts on behalf of the CIA. It has been ma pleasure and honour to serve FAI and ballooning with your help for more than 30 years, and I hope that your continuing support will make it possible for ballooning to strive and to remain one of the FAI's show-case activities.

J.C. Weber, President,
FAI Ballooning Commission
