REPORT ON 2001 FAI FREE FLIGHT WORLD CUP

by Ian Kaynes Chairman, CIAM FF Subcommittee November 2001

This year there were more competitions in each class of the Free Flight World Cup and at 2912 there were considerably more participants in these competitions than in any previous year. This had broken the record which had been established by 2653 total competitors in 1993. There was the same picture in all four individual categories of a record breaking number of competitors. With the increased number of competitions the average entry in each event was not also at a record level; in F1A, F1B and F1C there was an increased average compared to last year, while in F1E there was a drop against 2000. This drop could probably be related to the bad luck of poor weather at a number of the 11 F1E competitions.

F1A was won by Pieter de Boer of Netherlands, a Dutch succession to Maarten van Dijk's victory in 2000. The F1A crown had been closely fought through the year with the lead changing places several times. Victor Stamov had been leading in mid-summer, overtaken by Stephan Rump when he was the first to win three events, but he was finally overtaken by Pieter with wins in three major competitions giving him victory by four bonus points. In F1B Bernd Silz (Germany) took the World Cup title, having been in the lead during the summer, overtaken by last year's winner Ivan Kolic who was the first person to win three events. Ivan consolidated his lead with a fourth win, in the well-supported Sierra Cup, but Bernd took back the lead by two points with a win at Euro-Fly, the final event of the year. By contrast F1C had been lead for most of the year by John Cuthbert, Great Britain, who had quickly built up three wins. Eugeny Verbitsky came close to his score with a total including second places in some well supported competitions (and hence augmented by bonus points), but John secured the title with a win in Euro-Fly with additional bonus points. F1E had a record 11 competitions in 2001 and the victor, Daniel Petcu of Romania, achieved the remarkable feat of having reached placings eligible for World Cup points in 10 out of these 11 competitions. He had been closely followed by Vojtech Zima of Czech Republic, with a clear gap in front of third place.

ORGANISATION

The organisation of the World Cup ran smoothly apart from the usual late receipt of results from a few competition organisers. No results or news was received from the organisers of the Soko Cup scheduled to be held in Bosnia Herzegovina in August. Other people have reported that the event was not held because of bad weather, but it would have been a small courtesy for the organisers to pass on this news.

Comments have been received about a number of competitions being run at a standard rather below that required by the Sporting Code. This follows a protest in 2000 which eliminated one event from that year's World Cup on account of organisational shortcomings. While low standards are not desirable for any competition on the FAI Calendar, consideration should be given to more active elimination of sub-standard events from the World Cup. Like other years, at the start of 2001 a letter was sent to all organisers emphasising the need for observing the Sporting Code but this appears to be inadequate without further sanction.

ORGANISATION

In two competitions, competitors from countries which are not members of the FAI have been accepted. So the results of those competitors have been cancelled. It concerns:

- one F2B competitor from Khirgistan (Nikolai KOLESNIKOV) in 5th Grand Prix of Luxemburg (Piennes-France).
- Three F2A competitors from Bulgaria (Georgi KABAKOV, Asen TANEV and Bozidar TANEV) in 16th International Var Cup (Gyula-Hungary).

The compositions of the juries of the different competitions are given in the annex. The list of judges which have been considered is the list approved by the CIAM Plenary Meeting on 23rd-23th March 2000. The rules concerning compositions of FAI Jury and panels of judges are defined as follows in the Sporting Code.

FAI jury: application of the B.4.1 and B.4.4. rules of the Sporting Code with a FAI jury of three members who must be at least from two different nations and must have at least one language in common. Members of the jury may not compete in the event, except when the timetable gives a sub-division into categories. In that case, one or two members of the jury may compete in a category and must be replaced by alternate jury members (not competing in that category) for all matters involving that category.

Infringement to that rule has been noticed for Coppa d'Oro in Lugo di Romagna (Italy) in which one F2C competitor was in the FAI Jury and has been involved in the treatment of a F2C protest.

Informations concerning composition of the FAI Jury have not been received for Mecsek Cup in Pecs (Hungary).

F2B panel of judges: application of the 4.2.13 rule of the Sporting Code which means a panel of at least three judges. Those judges must be of at least two different nationalities and be selected from a list of persons proposed by the National Airsports Controls for their proficiency and experience and approved by the CIAM. If the panel is composed of five judges (recommended) only three of them must be approved by CIAM.

Infringements to that rule has been noticed for:

- a) 2nd Control Line World Cup in Rafaela (Argentina): none of the five members of the panel of judges is from the CIAM list.
- b) 9th IKR Pokalwettbewerb in Bitterfeld (Germany): the three members of the panel of judges are from the same country and only one of them is from the CIAM list.
- c) Open International Contest in Hradec-Kralové (Czech Republic): the three members of the panel of judges are from the same country and only one of them is from the CIAM list.
- d) Aripilie Somesului Cup in Dej (Romania): the three members of the panel of judges are from the same country and none of them is from the CIAM list.
- e) Kyic Cup in Kiev (Ukraine): the three members of the panel of judges are from the same country.
- f) Limfjords Competition 2001 in Aalborg (Denmark): none of the three members of the panel of judges is from the CIAM list.
- g) Mecsek Cup in Pecs (Hungary): the three members of the panel of judges are from the same country and only one of them is from the CIAM list.

F2C panel of judges: application of the 4.3.12 rule of the Sporting Code which means a panel of at least three judges. The judges must have at least one language in common. Report on 2001 RC-Soaring World Cup

This was the second World Cup of RC-Soaring classes.

At F3B World Cup 2001 only one contest could be counted in. The organizers in Chrudim intended to join the World Cup; unfortunately their entry was delayed at the NAC and the contest was not in the CIAM Sporting Calendar.

The F3J World Cup 2001 had 5 contests in the CIAM Sporting Calendar, but only three organisers sent the results till now. The results from Bertrix (BEL) and Martin (SVK) are not available.
